22. PUBLIC COMMENT:

John Lauricella, Cape May Court House, spoke of excitement regarding the Police Department promotions.

David Robinson, Cape May Court House, requested a traffic survey on Route 9 between Shell Bay and Johnstown Lane due to the residents and businesses in the area and the current speed allowance on the road. He continued on the discuss the accidents in the area. He requested that double yellow lines be added to the area, the speed limit be reduced to 25mph, the area become a no jake break zone and that sidewalk and curbing be added to the area as well.

David Robinson, Cape May Court House, then asked for a new homeless policy on the relocation of homeless individuals. He stated that he heard if there is a section 8 housing anywhere in the State that it can go to a homeless individual for housing but if they refuse than they can be placed under arrest.

Mayor Leusner discussed an article formally put out regarding homeless policies in Middle Township that reference an "Idaho Model" which the Township did not adopt. He then explained the partnership the Township has with Volunteers of America (VOA) which helps in assisting homeless individuals to seek housing however they are not utilized to track down individuals to lock up but to provide assistance and resources to these individuals to provide different options to help them and try to get them on a better path. He reiterated that VOA has been amazing in assisting individuals and he is upset that the State may take away the funding that allows for this partnership.

David Robinson, Cape May Court House, stated he was in agreeance with the Idaho model and supports requiring people to obtain housing.

Mayor Leusner reiterated need for the VOA and the assistance they provide.

David Robinson, Cape May Court House, asked about business registration requirement.

Mayor Leusner explained concerns from business owners regarding enforcement to revoke a business' license. He further explained the Township will not utilize the requirement to revoke the "license".

Matt Rooney used dog licenses as a reference to a similar registration requirement.

David Robinson, Cape May Court House, discussed required fee and frustration of him having to complete the application and upload documents and being charged the fee. He stated he believes the fee is unreasonable.

Mayor Leusner explained the process is more than just “hitting a button”. He advised the requirement takes new software, employees time and more and that most other municipalities have had a business license requirement for many years at much larger costs. He stated that the Governing Body believes the $75.00 fee was reasonable compared to other towns especially considering what the process requires. He further reiterated that this registration is due to requirements through the State.

Vince Conte, Cape May Court House, asked about advantage that condemnation has on the development designation investigation.

James Maley explained there have been various reasons as to why many of these properties have not been utilized, such as owners who are no longer there anymore. He further explained different instances where eminent domain comes in beneficial.

Vince Conte, Acorn Lane, asked how the community is protected during the eminent domain process.

James Maley explained the eminent domain process is very extensive and further explained the process. He stated the statutory amendments done years ago require the Township to establish these areas early in the process to provide availability for it to be challenged and proven a property is not in need of redevelopment.

Mayor Leusner explained that 99% of the properties in the redevelopment area are commercial properties. He then discussed establishment process of determining their areas.

James Pennington, Rio Grande, asked if it was necessary to utilize eminent domain if these properties are tax delinquent.

James Maley explained difference between in-rem foreclosure and condemnation redevelopment.

David Robinson, Cape May Court House, explained concerns about Matthews Avenue and flooding.

Kimberly Osmundsen advised that they are reviewing drainage of that area.

Wanda Shepherd, Whitesboro, asked for a traffic review at Main Street and Route 9 intersection in Whitesboro.

Mayor Leusner asked what her concerns are for that areas.

Wanda Shepherd, Whitesboro, stated concerns that it is narrow, people making left turns and the length of the light. She also requested speed bumps on George Street like there is on Main Street.

Kimberly Osmundsen explained the only reason for the speed bumps on Main Street is the recreation center.

Wanda Shepherd, Whitesboro, asked about Goshen Road paving.

Mayor Leusner stated the road is scheduled to be paved by the County by fall of the following year.
